RESUME, 1973

TUELLAHOMA HIGH SCHOOL

VOLUME 7

As a small child gazes with wonder at the brilliant patterns displayed by the kaleidoscope, he begins to think about the importance of each element in every pattern. Each tiny fragment of color adds its own unique beauty to that of all the other pieces. The tiniest sliver of colored glass is just as essential to the brilliance of the pattern as is the largest piece.

Tullahoma Senior High is not unlike the magic of the kaleidoscope. Each person is just as vital to the school as each speck of tinted glass was to the patterns the kaleidoscope projected. Each of us acts as a fragment of the picture of life exhibited in our school. Together we are able to project the diversities of life here at THS, thus forming our special patterns . . .

Mrs. West, Thanks a lot for listening to all of my problems and trying to help me. Looking forward to seeing you next year.
Be good this summer.

expression

relationships with others

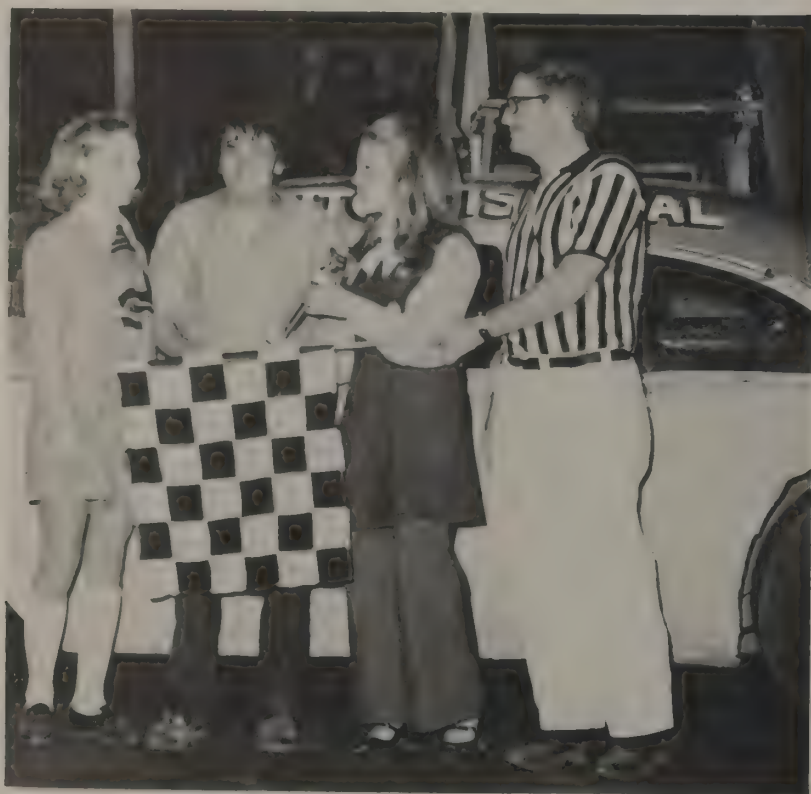

self=discovery.

As the loss of a fragment of glass from the kaleidoscope affects its intricate pattern, so the loss of any individual disturbs the pattern of life in our school—especially an individual so important as Verlon Fuller. As study hall supervisor, assistant baseball coach, and loyal supporter of all school activities, he touched the lives of many people.

As one gazes into our kaleidoscope, one is able to grasp a very tiny glimpse into the future and a shadow of the past.

Ricky Haygood performs magic tricks for the student body in assembly.

The 1973 school year was highlighted by a potpourri of events. The events ranged from Sophomore Orientation to a UT-faculty basketball game. Other activities of the year included a magic show given by Ricky Haygood, Battle of the Bands, and the third annual Jazz Festival. To raise student participation in pep sessions, the spirit stick was awarded by the cheerleaders to the most supporting class. The UT-Faculty Basketball Game was another event of the year. These events among others highlighted the year of 1973.

Homecoming week began with students participating in the preparation of class floats. Many students, for the first time, experienced the perils of float building. Each class was well represented, and the creativity and determination was easily seen as the finishing touches were put on the floats.

The traditional bonfire was held Thursday night with the cheerleaders and pep band as hosts. Spirit was aroused as the fire was lit and activities began.

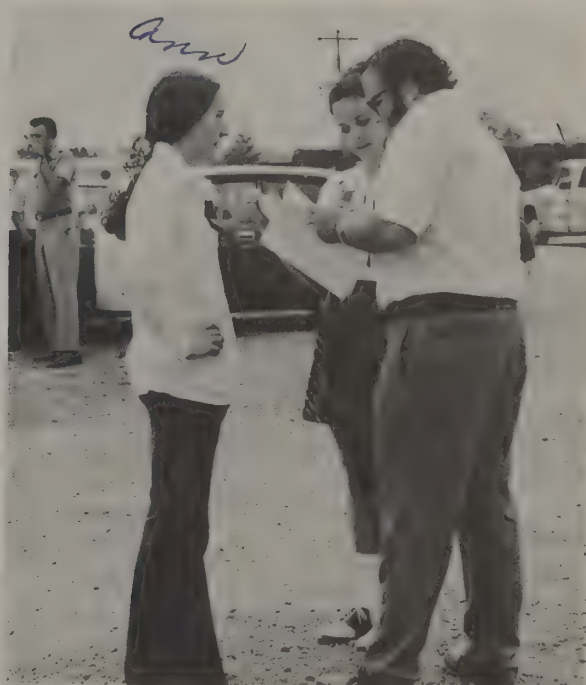

Friday, students were dismissed from school to view the parade. The parade started its lineup at the National Guard Armory and met the Marching Band at the town square. The activities were just enough to climax the excitement for the game.

Homecoming night finally arrived as a capacity crowd of THS fans turned out to watch the Tullahoma Wildcats take on the Columbia Lions. Excitement was the keynote as the teams met, and the THS fans kept their spirit throughout the game.

At halftime, student spirit reached its peak when Luann Grissom, the 1972 Homecoming Queen was crowned and received the traditional kiss from the student council president, Bing Bragg. Senior attendant was Linda Channell and Julie Brown was elected to represent the Junior Class. Cindy Bain was chosen to represent her class as sophomore attendant.

Following the game was the annual homecoming dance. During previous years, the dance has been held at the school auditorium, but this year it was held at the National Guard Armory. The students were entertained from after the game until 1:00 a.m. by the Dynamic Technique.

This year's senior class presented the drama, "A Man Called Peter", with the help of senior sponsors, Mrs. Donna Banks, prop chairman, and Mrs. Rebecca Chunn, stage director.

The seniors spent several weeks working on the construction of the set and costumes. Both students and sponsors spent endless hours trying to recreate an atmosphere of the 1940's. The hard work and effort paid off as the curtain rose and the drama began.

The play is centered around the dynamic Peter Marshall, his God, and the tender love between him and his wife. The play is an intense adventure about the wife of a poor Scottish immigrant who later became chaplain of the United States Senate.

Luann Grissom patiently listens for her cue to enter the stage. 7. David Ward sits quietly as Mrs. Chunn styles his hair.

The Seniors began their day of honor as Kyle Bills, Senior Class President, gave a short address of welcome. Pastor Smith, guest speaker from Trinity Lutheran Church, was introduced and gave the invocation.

Entertainment was provided by "Run of the Mill" after the Seniors finished their meal. Pastor Smith then gave his speech about the past and future of the Seniors of THS.

The unique decorations for the luncheon were provided by Miss Northam and her Home Ec. classes. Miss Northam also supplied Junior girls who served as waitresses. The Home Ec. classes also made programs for the Seniors as a keepsake of their day of honor.

Miss Trellis Northam, Connie Broadrick, and Liz Bowles add finishing touches to the decorations for the tables in the cafeteria. 7. Lynn Cowie patiently waits as Mrs. M. A. Smith prepares a lunch tray for her to deliver to the hungry seniors. 8. Mrs. Hickerson, Cathy Shea, and Cindy Osborne look over final plans for last minute preparations for senior day.

Competition between classes rose to a peak as the intramural games began. The Junior Girls, with their coaches Paige Harris and Gwen George, and the Senior Boys, coached by Ernest Holmes and Jim Duvall, proved to be superior in the strenuous competition. The games proved to be exciting and enjoyable entertainment for the student body.

1. Jerry Farrar rebounds as Ricky Cheshire and Bobby Ward rush to the scene. 2. Vicki Barber and Irma Rippe effectively block out Joan Silfies. 3. Excitement in the Senior-Junior boys game rises to a peak as Gary Kelso vies with an opponent for the ball. 4. Phillip Urbaniak searches for a teammate to forward the ball upcourt. 5. Joan Mealy is guarded by Susan Jennings as she attempts a jump shot. 6. Linwood Gilbert pumps in another one for the sophomores. 7. Referee Mike Stanton tosses the jump ball to begin the game between the Senior and Junior girls.

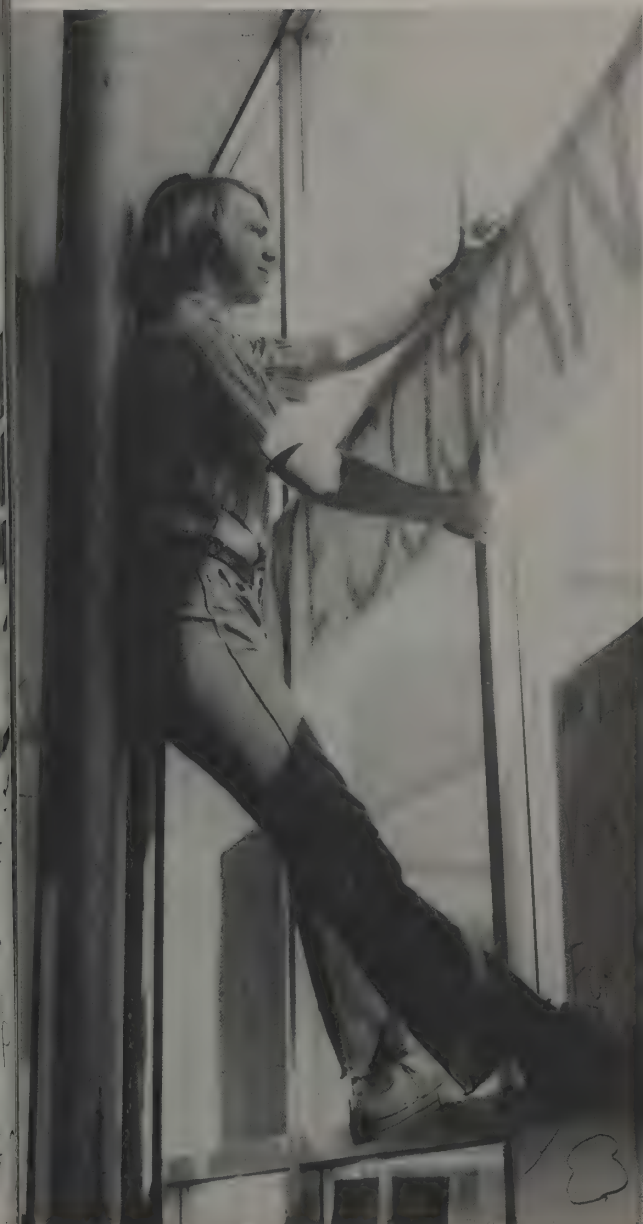

1. Four candidates for President, Greg Scott, Matt Bennett, Mike Wessel, and Mike Burroughs put up campaign material for the elections. 2. Mary Carol Endsley adds finishing touches to one of Bill Thoma's posters. 3. Vice-Presidential Candidate John Grissom secures one of his posters to a wall to encourage students to vote for him. 4. Carolyn Sweeney and Robert Talley work side by side for the candidate of their choice. 5. Bobby Jones attaches a long banner for Susan Heimlich to the front lobby window. 6. Bruce Womack, a candidate for Vice-President, furthers his campaign. 7. Bill Thoma decorates a wall by adding one more of his artistic posters.

The halls of THS were changed dramatically during the week of the elections for the Student Council officers. Colorful posters and campaign slogans covered the usually dull halls as students used their talents to create campaign materials. Students worked diligently and continuously putting up new posters to replace old ones that had fallen down.

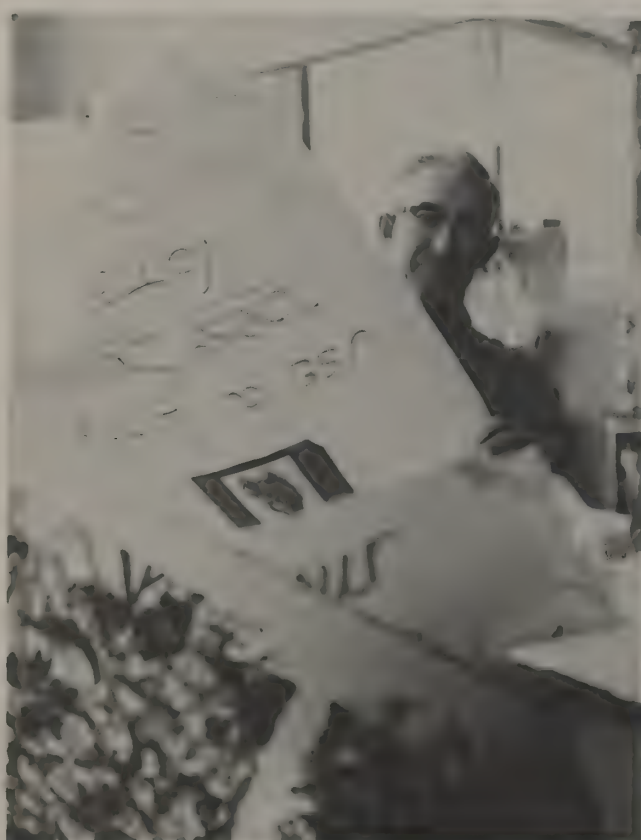

Candidates worked to prepare speeches which were given in assembly for the student body. Candidates for President were Mike Wessel, Greg Reaves, Chuck Keith, Mike Burroughs, and Matt Bennett. Running for Vice-President were Bill Thoma, John Grissom, and Bruce Daniel. Lesa Young, Wynelle Day, and Doreen Schulz were contenders for Secretary. Seeking the office of Treasurer were Sheila Scott, Susan Heimlich, Melinda Scobie, and Valerie Schulz.

An exciting week of campaign speeches and posters decorating the halls came to an end as the ballots were tabulated for the Student Council elections. The excitement was not over yet as the results showed a run off in all four offices of Student Council. Students reported back to their homerooms at the break to vote again for the offices of President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer. The results were to be announced later in the day.

When the final ballots were counted, the new Student Council officers were announced. They are Chuck Keith, President; Bruce Daniel, Vice-President; Lesa Young, Secretary; and Susan Heimlich, Treasurer.

miss tullahoma preparation

To create a spring garden setting for the 1973 Miss Tullahoma pageant, the Senior class, along with the Home Economics classes, worked arduously throughout the week making buttercups, roses, tulips, and various other flowers. Assisting the students was Miss Trellis Northam, who directed the work of arranging the garden scene on the stage. Programs, also the contribution of the Senior Class, were made ready for distribution to the audience.

miss tullahoma

On April 7, the annual Miss Tullahoma and Little Miss Tullahoma contests were held. Miss Stephanie Bell, a member of the senior class, was chosen from 110 girls to reign as the 1973 Miss Tullahoma. Miss Tullahoma's court was composed of Brenda Weaver, first runner-up; Jennifer Swink, second runner-up; Debbie Utterback, third runner-up; and Lisa Nall, fourth runner-up. Chosen as Little Miss Tullahoma was Kelly Weaver.

The theme of this year's Spring Formal was "Spring Fantasy". The gymnasium was decorated with arrangements of flowers and garden scenes. Parachutes were placed in the ceiling of the gymnasium to resemble the sky. The music for the dance was provided by "Past, Present, Future."

Many students participated in decorating the gym for the dance under the direction of Mrs. Jimmie Lou Smith. Art students provided paper roses for the girls as a keepsake. For lasting memories of the night, couples had their pictures taken in a carriage by Mr. Robert Wiser.

Mrs. West to a great teacher. I hope I can say the same next year, that means I would be here next year! Have a fun summer and I'll see you next year. (Hopefully!) Love, Karen

football

Head Coach Hulon Watson with assistance from David Duvall, Kelton Garner, and Tony Matusek led the 1972-73 Edition of the THS Wildcat Football Squad to a season record of 4-5-1. Highlighting the season were impressive victories over Murfreesboro Riverdale and the Manchester Red Raiders. The victory in Murfreesboro marked the first football win over a Murfreesboro team in many years. Winning over Manchester gave us the Coffee Pot, the symbol of the rivalry between the two schools. Other victories were posted against Lawrenceburg and Shelbyville. In the Fayetteville Game, the Wildcats displayed the greatest offensive attack of the season by gaining 23 first downs and an impressive 441 yards. Melvin Woodard gained a fantastic 244 yards.

Although a team effort determines the game, individual efforts and talents comprise the team. Those individuals who exhibit the most effort and ability receive various honors and are sought after by various universities. Those Wildcats receiving college scholarships are Jim Duvall who signed with the University of Tennessee; Ed Burns with Tennessee Tech; Terry McCabe with Austin Peay; and Brad Holden with Florence State.

Receiving recognition for his outstanding football ability, Jim Duvall was named to the All-State Squad by both rating associations. Players named to the All-Midstate Team were Jim Duvall and Terry McCabe with Ricky Cheshire receiving honorable mention. Ed Burns and Jim Duvall were also named all conference.

The Tullahoma Booster Club named the following boys as players of the week: Ricky Cheshire (2), Jim Duvall (4), Chuck Keith, Anthony Lowhorn, Robin Majors, Terry McCabe, Bobby Miles, Kim Oakley, Ricky Pless (2), Melvin Woodard (2).

cross-country

Coach Milner Carden led the THS Cross-Country Team to the State Meet for the eighth consecutive year. On their way to state competition, the thin-clads defeated Baylor, Murfreesboro, Antioch, and Chattanooga East Ridge. They ranked fourth in the A. F. Bridges Invitational Meet and finished second in the Regional losing only to Nashville McGavock. The season's climax came when the squad seized fourth place in the State Meet held in Nashville.

Outstanding harriers for the season as well as regional and state competition were John Warren and Chester Daniel. This year marked the third consecutive year for both boys to compete in the State Meet.

Coach Kelton Garner, assisted by David Duvall, led the THS matmen to the first winning season for a THS wrestling team. The wrestlers fought to an unprecedented 11-3 season record. Five wrestlers qualified for regional competition by placing in the top four of their weight classes in the district tournament. John Warren was defeated in a close match in the district finals to place second in the 147-pound class. Bill Welsh also placed second in the 128-pound class. Placing third in their classes were Vince Eggleston and Tommy Threet. Rick Laymance wrestled to fourth place in the 157-pound class. Other wrestlers who had outstanding season records were Matt Barnett and Billy Sparks.

Under the direction of Head Coach Dale Phelps, and Assistant Coach Hulon Watson, the 1972-73 Wildcats posted a 12-11 season. Some of the major victories slated by this years team were against Sparta, Fayetteville (twice), Chattanooga Brainard, Pulaski, and Grundy County.

This year's team had basically six returning lettermen; four were Seniors and two were Juniors. The Seniors were Kyle Bills, Jimmy Duvall, Ernest Holmes, and Wayne Jordan. Junior lettermen included Bill Bethmann and Joe Pigott. Bills, Duvall, Jordan, and Pigott were starters from last year.

Spirit and determination played a major role in the cats basketball games as Coach Phelps found experience with the four returning starters. Individual talent was evident on the courts, but team effort always proved superior.

Individual awards were: Bill Bethmann, All-District tournament and Keller Trophy; Jim Duvall, Kyle Bills, and Wayne Jordan, All-Tournament in the Christmas Tournaments at Motlow.

Bill Bethmann banks a soft one-hander for another THS basket. 6. Junior guard, Joe Pigott scraps for a loose ball while Wayne Jordan moves in to give assistance.

boys' basketball

During this year's season the Wildcats displayed many abilities and few faults. These virtues and flaws can be detected when one examines certain statistics which reveal the true achievements of a basketball team other than victory or defeat.

Some of the more outstanding statistics are as follows: Out of 1,455 field goals attempted, the Wildcats connected 595 times for a net percentage of 41; out of 329 attempted foul shots the Wildcats successfully scored on 207 for a percentage of 66; the Wildcats scored an average of 58.2 points per game while their average rebounding mark was 30.8 per game; the high scorer for this year's season was Bill Bethmann with a total of 287 points. Close behind Bethmann was Wayne Jordan with 267 points for the season.

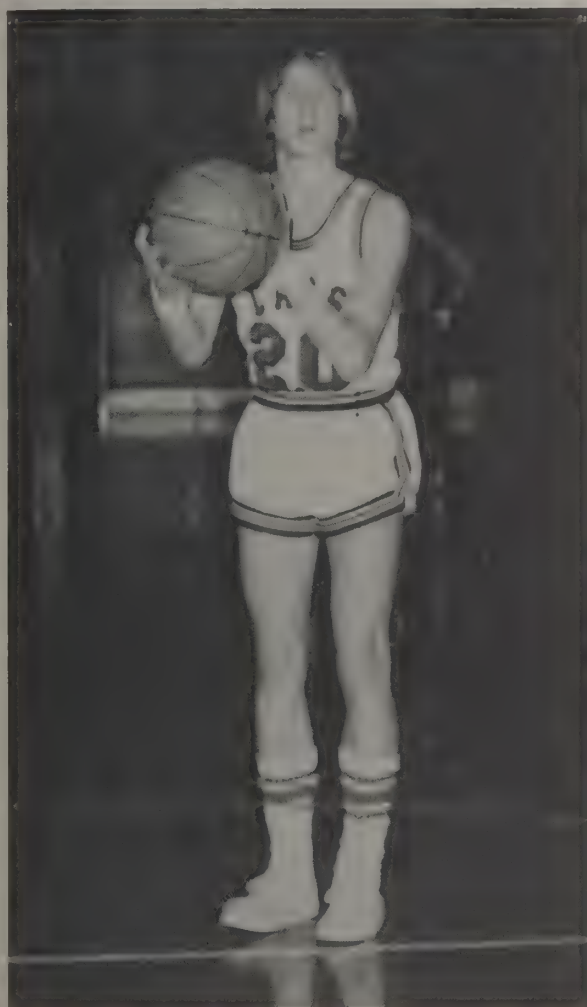

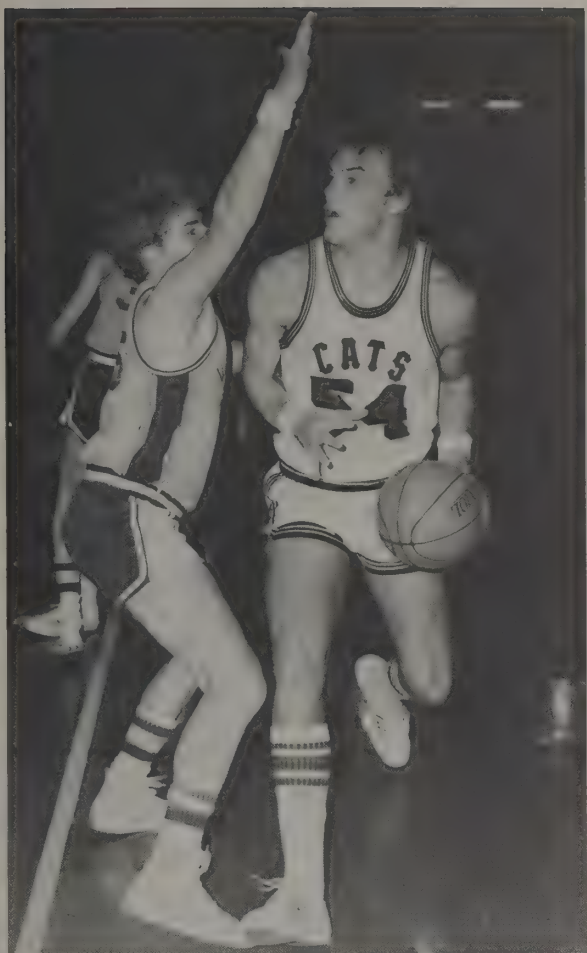

The Wildcats started with a strong season but slackened due to injuries and illnesses.

girls' basketball

The 1972-73 Girls' Basketball Season was filled with surprises and disappointments. Under the leadership of Coach Tommy Whitaker, the Wildkittens posted a 13-6 season record, one of their best in recent years.

The success of this year's squad depended upon the success of both the offensive and defensive units. This year's forwards were Terrie George, Denise Rousseau, Lynn Liggett, Reba Collins and Diane Grogan. The defensive kittens were Cindy Osborne, Joanne Johnson, Paige Harris, Debbie Parrish, Sherry Seely and Paula Conrad.

One of the many highlights of the year was the scoring of 47 points by Terrie George during the Shelbyville game which set a school record for points scored in a single game.

girls' basketball

The climax of the 1972-73 Wildkitten Season came during post-season tournament play. In order for the Wildkittens to advance to the Regional Tournament, they had to rank in one of the top two positions in the district. In the first round of district play the THS girls' squad drew a bye. In the second round, the Kittens defeated the Manchester Red Raiderettes. This victory led them on to Regional action at Motlow State Community College. In a tough and very close game, the Wildkittens fell short of a victory over the Carthage Owlettes by only two points. The final score was 42-40.

Those who received individual honors during the tournaments are: Terrie George, All-District and All-Regional; Debbie Parrish, All-District and All-Regional; Denise Rousseau, All-District; and Cindy Osborne, All-District.

The THS boys' and girls' tennis teams have a fair record half-way into the season with a 4-4 record for the boys and a 3-2 record for the girls. The racketeers clashed in competition this year with such teams as Sewanee, St. Andrews, Columbia, Franklin County, and Chattanooga Brainard.

Led by Coach Tommy Whitaker, the team members weathered threatening skies, wind, and the hot sun to improve their skills in tennis and prepare to battle their opponents. Leading the team in singles is Joe Piggot, who remains undefeated half-way into the season.

track

Coach Milner Carden led his THS Tracksters to a record of 5-2 in regular season meets and the conference championship. The Wildcat Squad won the Middle Tennessee Track Conference, established this year, in the Conference Meet held in Tullahoma. The track and field squads competed in four major meets across the state in preparation for the State Track Meet to be held late in May. The striders placed fourth in the Baylor Relays in Chattanooga and Fifth in the Memphis Classic before going on to capture second place in the Nashville Optimist Relays in which John Warren was named Most Valuable Athlete. In the Midstate Invitational held in Tullahoma, the THS Squad placed second in very close competition with Clarksville. The championship was decided in the final event with Clarksville winning by a three-point margin.

Any successful track team has several outstanding athletes and the THS Squad is no exception. The two-mile relay team, consisting of Chester Daniel, Tyler Marshall, Don Trussell, and John Warren, runs the event with the best time state-wide. Breaking his own record in pole vaulting, John Warren vaulted 12 ft. 8 in. He is also outstanding in the mile run and the 880-yard run. Other outstanding tracksters are Jim Duvall in the shot and discus event, Bobby Nichols in the low and high hurdles, and Bill Bethmann in the long jump.

Under the direction of Head Coach Jerry Mathis and Assistant Coach Ted Frisby, the Wildcat Baseball Team has once again achieved a victory-filled season. With only two games to go in regular season, the Cats have posted a 16-2 record. Coach Mathis saw his sluggers outplay Manchester, Ashland City (2), Moore County (2), Huntland, Grundy County (2), Franklin County, Sewanee Academy, St. Andrews, Huntsville Grissom, Murfreesboro Oakland, and Smyrna. The only losses were to Huntsville Grissom and Franklin County, both of which the Wildcats had defeated in previous games.

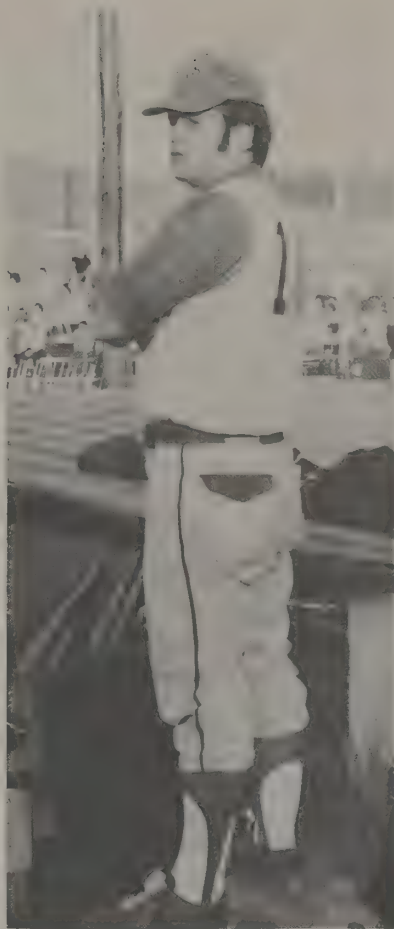

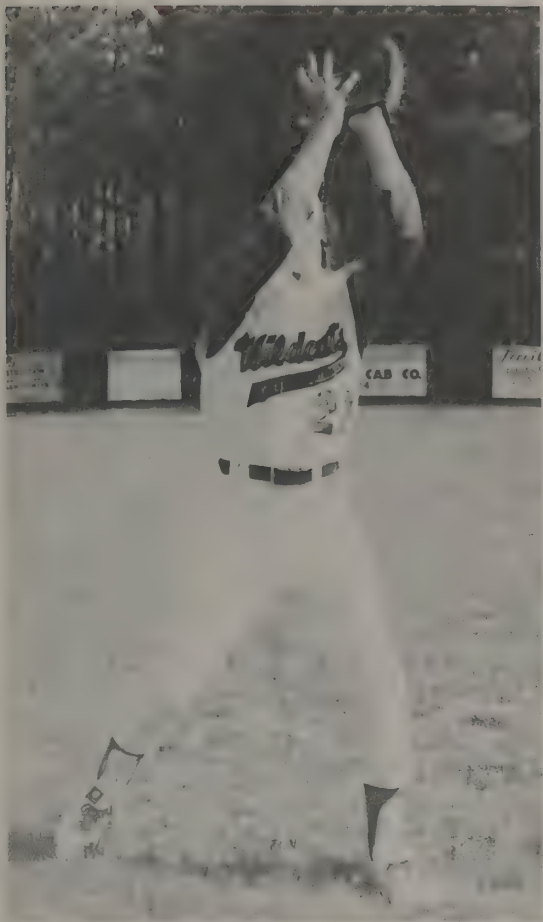

Thus far in the season, the Cats are tied with Franklin County for first place in the district. The THS Squad must battle Manchester and Huntland before winding up the season while Franklin County will meet Manchester and Grundy County. District Tournament action will begin May 19 with the Wildcats battling for the top spot.

Joey Tuck dashes back to first base after an attempt to steal.

baseball

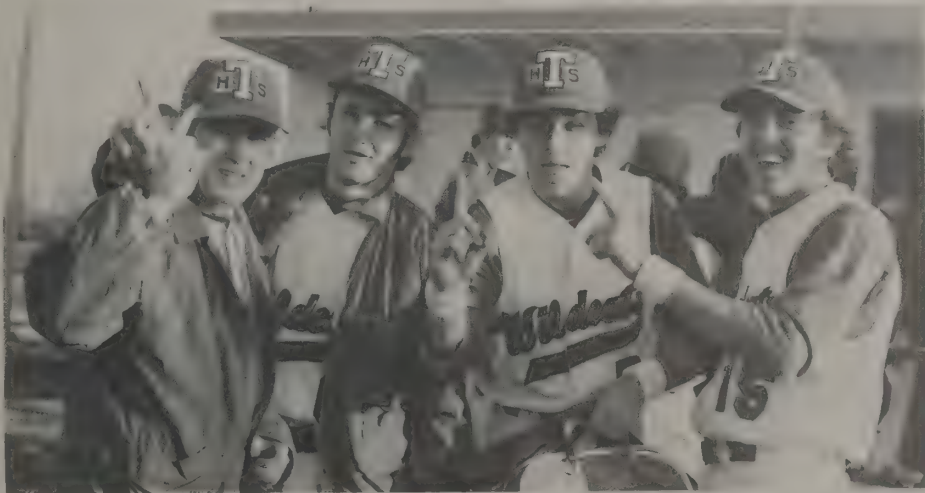

The success of the THS Sluggers depends upon a team effort as well as outstanding individual efforts. The number one slugger is Ricky Cheshire with a batting average of .480. In the number two spot is Joey Tuck averaging .400. Chuck Partin and Bob Ragsdale average .385 and .380 respectively. The pitching staff has certainly had a hand in the Wildcat victories. Pitchers for the squad and their win-loss records are: Jerry Farrar, 5-1; Bobby Branch, 4-1; Jov Tuck, 4-0; Mike Howell, 2-0; John Jarratt, 1-0.

Ed May, Pat Pack, David Patton, and David Peck swung the Wildcat golf team to an 8-2 record with four matches to go in regular season. Coach Dale Phelps saw his golfers defeat Manchester, Columbia, Sewanee Academy (2), St. Andrews (2), Murfreesboro Riverdale, and Murfreesboro Oakland. The only losses were to Warren County and Columbia. The top golfer thus far in the season is David Peck averaging 77 strokes. Ranking second are both Ed May and David Patton with stroke averages of 79. Averaging 80 strokes, Pat Pack is playing close behind the other members of the foursome.

Shouting, jumping, chanting, and cheering are all antics performed by the cheerleading squad in an effort to arouse spirit during competitive sports. The 1973 Squad began an outstanding year by bringing home the spirit stick from cheerleading camp. During the year the cheerleaders organized pep sessions and skits, presented a spirit stick to the class with the most spirit during the week, and sponsored a poster contest to build school spirit. Fund raising projects included the sale of annual covers and ads for duffle bags.

Many fun-raising and fund-raising activities highlighted the Student Council year. Excitement filled the air as the Council revealed Homecoming plans including a unique parade, a rock concert, and the traditional high-spirited dance. Service projects for THIS saw Sophomore Orientation spruced up by new handbooks, free student phone books for calling convenience, buses to out-of-town athletic events, and collection of tickets at home games. The Council encouraged school spirit by buying new pom-poms for the cheerleaders, sponsoring a Spades Tournament, awarding the McBerry Teacher Awards, having a Halloween Dance, and coordinating the weekly radio show, Wildcat World. Funds raised by selling candy, garbage stationary, and cokes were used to buy a new speaker system and to send delegates to workshops and conventions. Community service projects included assisting charitable fund raising drives and collecting Christmas boxes. Peopleization was the theme of a one-day Mid-State Leadership Workshop. All members especially enjoyed planning and participating in this project.

beta club and national honor society

The Beta Club and National Honor Society are honor clubs for THS students. The Beta Club is also a service organization, as shown by this year's projects. These included the March of Dimes Walkathon, the sale of candy for the intercom system, and the donation of books to the library. Sponsoring the Norman trophy and giving daily devotions are also projects of the club. Officers are: David Ward, President; Greg Bennett, Vice-President; Julie Juer, Secretary; and Debbie York, Treasurer. Faculty sponsor is Mrs. Lorine King.

Maintaining order in the library is a difficult job; and it hardly seems possible that our two librarians, Mrs. Myrtle Burchett and Mrs. Carol Russell, could possibly attend to the many tasks involved in library work without help. Luckily, however, they do not have to do all this by themselves. They are aided by members of the Library Club. These students work daily during study hall—checking books in and out, collecting overdue fines, shelving books, and in general making themselves helpful. Often they work before and after school, also. Officers are: Nathan Smith, President; Foster Neal, Vice-President; and Jackie Hyde, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Barrett-Browning Club is composed of Junior and Senior girls who maintain a straight "A" average in English. The English-lovers are entertained each month at the home of a member, and at least one book report is presented at each meeting.

This year the members have visited several theaters in Middle Tennessee, attending several plays and movies, including "The Imaginary Invalid," by Moliere. The members of the club also enjoyed the annual spring outing. Faculty sponsor is Mrs. Donna Benek, and officers are Patti Hendrick, President, Foster Neal, Vice-President, and Sally Walker, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Junior Civitan club is a service organization sponsored by the Civitans. The club's enthusiasm for school and community activities is shown through such projects as ushering at the football games, raising and lowering the flag each day, and collecting for the March of Dimes. The Junior Civitans sold doughnuts to raise money for projects to aid the school and community. Attending the State Civitan Convention climaxes the activities in which the Junior Civitans have participated. french club

The calendar of French Club activities for the past year was full. Aside from monthly meetings, several special gatherings were held for the club members. They were entertained with parties at Christmas and Valentine's Day. One of the highlights of the year was a visit to MTSU to see a play by Moliere. A candy sale was held to raise money for the club. The year was climaxed by a banquet for which the members prepared French dishes. Officers of the club are: Pam Ballard, president; Terry McCabe, vice president; Susan Matz, secretary; and Debbie York, treasurer. Faculty sponsor is Mrs. Emily Habel.

Our Future Homemakers at THS were very busy this year with various activities. The members of the club attended a fall Sub-Regional meeting with other FHA chapters in McMinnville. For Christmas the club contributed their time and effort in dressing and cleaning up old dolls for the Fire Department. They also helped in the construction of the THS Singer's costumes. The spring meeting, in Winchester, was held to install the new officers elected earlier. Julie Eaton was installed as the Sub-Regional President and Connie Broadrick helped in the service. A degree program was held in which members of the club may earn their state degree. Patsy Jones received her state degree after many hours of hard work.

As one of the most active clubs at THS, the Press Club works diligently to maintain The Echo. This year the club published nine editions under the leadership of Debbie Noland, editor-in-chief, and Stephanie Luttrell, assistant editor. Two outstanding issues were the literary issue, which contains original works by students, and the April Fool's edition, which provided students with enjoyable stories. Each year the Press Club presents the Keller Trophy to an outstanding basketball player. Bill Bethmann was this year's recipient. Last summer several members attended a workshop at Knoxville and recently the paper received an excellent rating at the Press Convention in Memphis. Mrs. McClure and Mrs. Chunn are the able advisors for The Echo.

General offenses and defenses, openings, endings, and the middle game are all topics of strategy discussed by members of the THIS Chess Club sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Benek. Club meetings also include practice in playing the game of chess. One meeting included a demonstration of the use of the chess clock by Dan Clemens, a member of the club. Officers of the club are: President, David Ward; Vice-President, Bobby Jones; Secretary-Treasurer, Laurie Kite.

Adding color to our school in various ways are members of the Art Club, formed this year by Mrs. Jimmie Lou Smith. These talented people decorate the display cases in the main lobby with works of art as well as artistic murals. For the Christmas Season they painted a mural of the Nativity on the lobby windows and also made ornaments for sale. They painted backdrops for the Senior Play, the Entertainers spring production, and made decorations for the Spring Formal. The advanced students painted a large picture to hang in the cafeteria in memory of Mr. Verlon Fuller.

The theatre is the topic of conversation when the Entertainers get together once a month and in drama class. They learn the techniques of acting and the technical aspects of the stage.

In all phases of theatrical production the members earn points to become members of the Thespians, an international honorary drama society. Present members are Roxane Binkley, Tyler Marshall, Susan Radford, Greg Scott, Lynn Turner and Jan Vick.

The Entertainers presented "Tevya and His Daughters" as its spring production. The senior members participated in the senior play "A Man Called Peter."

stage band wind ensemble

Providing musical entertainment for many school and community functions is a primary goal of both stage bands and the wind ensemble through the year. One of the big events of the year is the Tullahoma Jazz Festival sponsored by the THS Band. The stage bands and wind ensemble represented the school in the Jazz Festival. Due to the enormous interest in music, two stage bands were needed and the wind ensemble was enlarged. The first stage band traveled to Memphis in February and entered competition in the Memphis Jazz Festival. The two stage bands played in a two-hour concert with the chorus in April. All three groups performed in assemblies before the school during the year. The first stage band performed for both junior high schools to encourage interest in the high school music program. They also provided music for the intermission of the Miss Tullahoma Contest.

A year of exciting experiences is coming to a close for the THS band. Besides increasing the spirit at football games, the marching band was found at the head of the Homecoming and Christmas parades. Hard-working members raised money on Pancake Day and by selling Tullahoma News subscriptions. Many awards were received by band members this year. These included John Sanders, All-State, and Luann Cross, All-Midstate. Donna Martin, most outstanding band member, was honored with the John Philip Sousa Award. Receiving cash awards were Greg Bolden, Neil Rutland, John Sanders, Luann Cross, Terese Smith, and Donna Martin.

Financial matters, attendance reports, and general announcements are just a few of the responsibilities of the administrative staff at THS. Headed by principal Creed McClure, the staff is constantly busy handling day to day school matters. The secretaries, Mrs. Ruth Throneberry, Mrs. Margie Owens, and Mrs. Dotty Culbertson undertake the typing, correspondence, and money matters in dealing with office duties. Also on the staff is Mrs. Virginia Batts who manages the cafeteria—a vital school function.

Because the student council is so much a part of the school government, a corner of the office is used as a supply center for the council and members serve as office workers.

guidance office

The guidance office buzzes with the many activities carried on within it. It is in this office that the course of a student's life at THS is carefully planned. Class schedules, college preparation, and personal problems provide the guidance staff with the challenges it is eager to meet. Mrs. Clara Garrison's main job is preparing students for college, scheduling classes, and counseling students. Mr. Mike Stanton assumes the role as coordinator of vocational affairs, and works with students in the growth group sessions. It is the duty of Mrs. Lorraine Williams to organize the files, take phone messages, and maintain order in the office.

Without students, no school exists; without books, no library exists; but without a library and no students to use it, a school is a book with no bibliography. Just as a bibliography tells where material came from, so librarians, Mrs. Myrtle Burchett and Mrs. Carol Russell, guide students to necessary source materials. Library Club members prove invaluable to the librarians in helping students find and check out books.

Another side of the story concerns the study hall, kept by Mr. Verlon Fuller until his unfortunate death last March. Col. John Hill, his replacement, now acts as the study hall teacher. Students are able to use the library during study hall, allowing them to complete assignments in other classes.

language; the arts

THS offers students a well-established and diversified area of study in the arts and foreign languages. Under the guidance of Mr. Max Weaver, who directs both the band and stage band as well as chorus, the band performs several concerts during the school year. Mrs. Jimmie Lou Smith teaches the techniques of painting, drawing, and sculpting to her Art II, III, and IV classes. Mrs. Rebecca Chunn teaches drama and also sponsors the Entertainers Club.

In the foreign language department, THS is fortunate in having three very capable teachers. Teaching Latin II and sponsoring the Latin Club is Mr. Francis Bass. Mrs. Edna Madden teaches Spanish I, II, and III while she also takes time out to sponsor the Spanish Club. Mrs. Emily Habel assumes her role in teaching French I, II, and III, and actively takes part as sponsor of the French Club.

Literature, grammar, and composition make up the English courses taught here at THS. With the skilled hand of the fine English teachers to guide the students plus the excellent background provided in each area of the course, the students will have developed a greater appreciation for the literary achievements of man.

The English courses are designed to provide students with a taste of the various types of literature. Sophomore English is an overall survey of American and European influence on literary style. Junior English concentrates more on American literature in diverse stages.

The Living Curriculum is an integral part of the various phases of an English course. It provides students with the opportunity to become more active in class through panel discussions, plays, interviews, and various other activities.

1. Mrs. Chunn beams with pride as she leads her class into the exciting realm of literature. 2. Striving to complete another grueling English test are Mike White and Tom Tidwell. 3. Visual aides are important in making a class interesting, as shown here by Nancy Ison and Theresa Crosslin. 4. With the helping hand of Mrs. Bass, Clarke Shaw examines a grammar rule. 5. Julie Eaton and Julie Brown demonstrate butter churning to the class as an English project. 6. Mr. Duvall helps Debbie Parrish with English library work. 7. Miss Woodall examines creative writing by one of her fine students. 8. Sophomores Kirby Wright, Claire Galbraith, Deborah House, and Charlotte Lewis present Huxley's Brave New World to the class.

When making a study of the Literature of England, seniors at THS make use of such material as original skits, puppet shows, essays, poetry, and other forms of learning. Highlights of the history of England are taught through literature by excellent instruction. Teaching senior English are Mrs. Donna Benek, Mrs. Ann Hickerson, and Mrs. Lorine King, who each combine their knowledge and interesting techniques to get across basic ideas of literature and grammar to the students in their classes. Mrs. Sarah Ray acts as a reliable teacher's aide to Mrs. King, who also teaches sophomore and junior English classes.

1. Amidst a mountain of test papers, Mrs. Ann Hickerson pauses during her grading. 2. Butch Duke receives last minute instructions from Mrs. Lorine King before taking an exam. 3. After a lecture, Mrs. Dona Benek helps senior Stephanie Bell complete her class notes. 4. As Lawrence Poole and Jeff Douglas look on attentively, Mrs. Sara Ray reviews vocabulary words. 5. Giving a puppet show to relate English literature to other students is found to be effective and enjoyable by Susan Matz, Rebecca Schueler, Reneé Wassom, Phyllis Pratt, Carolyn Sweeney, all students of Mrs. Dona Benek's first period class. 6. Excellent craftsmanship and manipulation are products of the girls in Mrs. Benek's first period class through their puppets.

The many math courses offered to students gives them the opportunity to develop a good background in math. Geometry, Algebra I and II, practical, advanced, and fifth-year math, with the aid of the math teachers, provides an enjoyable course of study. Mrs. Marcia Kemp, also Nike Club sponsor, teaches geometry, algebra I, and fifth-year math. Algebra II, advanced and fifth-year math are taught by Mr. Homer Layne, sponsor of the math club. Mr. Ted Frisby teaches geometry. Mrs. Doris Edwards and Mr. Tony Matussek "teach" General Math and Algebra II.

Each year several promising math students go to Sewanee to participate in the math contest. The competition is tough, yet the experience is rewarding. Giving honor to THS were George Shipp, taking second in algebra II, with Barbara Redder and Lynn Liggett tying for fourth. Mike Moore and Dan Clemens tied for seventh in advanced math while Cindy Hall took tenth.

Science-minded students can freely express themselves in their learning through the exceptional science courses offered at THS. Basic biology concepts are taught by Mr. Ronald Coleman and Mr. Ronald Murray. For those students who wish to extend their biology interests, advanced biology courses are also being offered under the excellent guidance of Mr. Coleman and Mr. Murray. Mrs. Jane Weaver and her students explore the fascinating realm of chemistry, carefully examining each new mystery as it is encountered by the class. Mr. Ted Frisby, a new addition to the science team, leads his students into the world of physics and teaches them the properties encompassed in the course.

After opening the clam, Kim Newsom examines the insides.

Tullahoma High is fortunate to have a well-rounded course of studies in the social sciences. To begin the program as a sophomore, one can take either World History, thoroughly taught by Coach Milner Carden, or Geography, "instructed expertly by" Coach Kelton Garner. Moving up as a junior, one jumps into the world of the American past with Mr. Kenneth Mott, Coach Kelton Garner, and Mr. Richard Hawkins. Sustaining the rigors of this course, one graduates to Advanced History taught by Mr. Francis Bass. With these tidbits of the past, graduates will be better able to cope with the future.

physical education

THS may be unique in that it has its own health spa built right into the curriculum. Like the international spa, the P.E. program is built around physical fitness, but there is still a lot of fun involved. Hearty yells can usually be traced to activity in the gym working under the guise of P.E. classes. Mrs. Christine Bettis, girls' P.E. instructor, teaches students such activities as basketball, tumbling, and golf. She guides her students toward the goal of the perfect figure. Besides coaching girls' basketball and tennis teams, Coach Tommy Whitaker molds the ideal male physique in boys' P.E. classes. He does this through the participation of his students in track, basketball, and baseball.

1. With a quick thumb and sharp eyes, Coach Tommy Whitaker times track runners in P.E. 2. Mrs. Christine Bettis stands alert and ready to stop basketball action with the sound of a whistle. 3. With the ample help of Tam Horn, Pam Ballard gracefully leaps across the sidehorse.

driver education

Driver education is courageously being taught by the daring duo, Coaches Dale Phelps and Hulon Watson. Coach Watson and Coach Phelps attempt to point out the qualities of a good driver. Driver education offers students an opportunity to learn the basic skills required in safe driving with supervision under the watchful eye of an experienced driver. The course also affords the student the opportunity to gain a reduction in his insurance, especially for the male drivers. The course consists of a six-weeks period in class in which the student is to study the driving text, and then two weeks of road training. After completing this extensive course, the students emerge better and considerably safer drivers.

Lisa Nall, recipient of the Betty Crocker Award, sews diligently. 6. Listening to Miss Trellis Northam in Home Ec. are Luann Cross and Beth Hale.

Students, upon smelling a delicious aroma of cooking goodies, may not necessarily denote the school cafeteria as its source.

If one follows these aromas, he may end up in the cooking section of the home economics room. Here students learn how to prepare various kinds of foods. Following the four-pronged schedule of home economics, of which foods and nutrition are a part, are courses in interior decorating, family living, and clothing. All of these courses are combined in Home Economics I and II, while they may be taken in semesters by Juniors and Seniors. In clothing, students learn to sew many useful articles with the ready assistance of Mrs. Laura Haynes. Miss Trellis Northam also proves invaluable with her guidance in all forms of home economics classes. With the help and know-how learned from these courses, students are more easily able to step into the role of a homemaker in the future.

A student working toward perfection in business education strives to co-ordinate his mind with his hands in quickness and in accuracy. In preparing for a business career, a student needs proper training. THS offers courses in business for such students. Teaching Typing I, and General Business at THS is Miss Fredia Flack. Her pleasant personality enables students to learn easily in an agreeable atmosphere. Mrs. Sylvia Garner, sponsor of the Resumé staff, teaches such courses as Business Communication, Personal Typing, and Accounting. Mrs. Blanche McClure instructs Typing I, and II classes and Shorthand. Mrs. McClure also sponsors the school newspaper, THE ECHO.

Sandra Huskey, is the first-place winner of the Typing contest at Middle Tennessee State University. 8. While Martha Lynch sits patiently, Mrs. Smith shows Vicki Gattis a new hair rolling technique.

cosmetology; voe

Girls who take cosmetology and engage in VOE (Vocational Office Education) are thinking ahead for their careers. THS offers these two courses so that when they are completed, an exciting beauty or office career is awaiting in the near future. Under the outstanding instruction of Mrs. Mary Alice Smith, cosmetology students learn all about beauty through hair dressing, nail manicuring and other grooming techniques. Mrs. Judy West carefully teaches her eager students how to take dictation speedily, quicken their fingers on the keyboards, master filing procedure, and other offices practices. Girls from both classes enter contests sponsored by VICA and TOEC clubs in order to prove their skills in competition with girls of other schools.

To secure a job upon completion of high school is an ideal situation for many students. Students with auto mechanics or electronics in mind as job occupations are able to do this by taking those courses which are offered vocationally at THS. The courses are taught under a two hour a day program for juniors and for three hours per day for seniors.

Teaching students all about automobiles, their usage and mechanics, is Mr. Ike Turner. His warm personality and eagerness encourage students to excel in their work. Mr. I. D. Smith aids students in mastering the intrications of electronics through appliance, radio, and other wire-work repair. Such excellent instruction and guidance is essential for success of students in these courses of study.

Amidst a maze of wires, Tommy Robinson makes a concentrated effort on a repair task in electronics. 8. Chuck Partin and Gary Conn check and make minor adjustments on a car engine.

industrial arts; ict

As each step in life is usually taken in preparation for another step of life, so Industrial Arts, ICT, and shop are courses taken to train for a lifetime career.

Two types of drafting are taught for students at THS; vocational drafting and mechanical drawing. Vocational drafting, instructed by Mr. Jerry Mathis, is an opportunity for the interested individual in that it is training for immediate employment upon graduation from high school. Mr. Robert Wiser teaches mechanical drawing which is a course for college preparation. Students with architectural or engineering careers in mind find this course indispensable.

Industrial Cooperative Training (ICT) is a unique course because students attend classes in the morning and check out of school for an outside job after the lunch hour.

Shop, involving working with wood, electricity, metals, and power mechanics is taught to students by Mr. Robert Wiser. Through this course of study, a student coordinates his hands and his mind to reach milestones in his education.

1. Working together with careful effort, Tim Holder and Mike Damron complete a wooden stool in shop class. 2. With a careful eye turned toward his student, Mr. Max Huddleston guides Clifford Roberts in filling out his work-study program sheet for ICT. 3. Mr. Jerry Mathis aids Raymond Smith in working a vocational drafting problem. 4. Mr. Robert Wiser pauses while making minor adjustments in woodworking. 5. Intent upon finishing his project in shop within an allotted amount of time, Stan Young drills holes for screw placement. 6. Allowing no outside distractions to interfere with his work, Jeff Neely puts finishing touches on a drawing.

FAMOUS LEAD-FREE AMOCO SUPER-PREMIUM. Use it if you want high octane performance and better mileage than with leaded premium gasoline. Cuts air pollution and engine pollution, so you can double spark plug, tail pipe and muffler life.

NEW LEAD-FREE AMOCO.
Made for all '72 and '73 cars and many that now use regular gasoline. Cuts hydrocarbon emission 15% and ends lead emission completely. And your spark plug, tail pipe and muffler can last twice as long.
